

Dr. Nichol, in his work describing the magnitude of Lord Rosse's celebrated telescope, says that he has looked into space a distance of 100,000 miles. Incredible as this may seem, it is not unbelievable that light which travels at the rate of 300,000 miles a second, would require four hours and 40 minutes to come from the stars.

cat year continuing about 32,000,000 of seconds, to pass intervening "gulf" between "on earth, and the remotest point to which this wonderfully powerful telescope has reached." Most utterly unable in the mind to grasp even a fraction of this immense period! To conceive the passing events of a hundred thousand years only is an impossibility; to say nothing of the millions and hundreds of millions of years.

The sun is more than 90,000,000 miles distant from the earth; yet a ray of light will traverse that immense distance in eight minutes. Long as they seem, the distance passed in so short a time, what comparison can the mind frame between it and the greater distance which Dr. Nichol and Lord Rosse demonstrated would require every second of that time to represent more than 500,000 years.

SHORTENING THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER.—A resident of Mephias addressed the Governor of Mississippi, recommending to his attention a scheme for shortening the Mississippi river. The proposition is to lessen the distance between Cairo and New Orleans 300 miles, or to reduce it from 1,200 to 900 miles. The effect would be to increase the current one-fourth, or to give, for high water, a current of seven miles per hour instead of three. A part of this scheme is to dam up Red river near its junction with the Mississippi, so as to throw the waters which seek an outlet through Red River into the Atchatalaya and Dorwick's Bay. Not to damage the commerce of New Orleans, an iron lock is to be placed and out of the Mississippi through Red river.

THE VETO OF THE IRRIGATION BILL.
EXECUTIVE OFFICE, Utah Territory,
January 16th, 1866.
HONORABLE GEORGE A. SMITH,
President of the Council:
I deem it proper to communicate to you some of the reasons which impel me to withhold my signature from a bill entitled "An act to incorporate the Deseret Irrigation and Navigation Company," which has been received at this Office. It is with the greatest regret that I find myself obliged to adopt this course.
The undertaking contemplated by the bill is one which, carried out as it is to be, purely by private capital and enterprise, awakens my indignation by its magnitude and boldness. It is an undertaking, before entering upon its execution, the enterprise capitalists of our oldest and wealthiest State might well hesitate, and therefore the more remarkable in the people of this Territory: a young and purely agricultural community, and isolated in a great measure from the markets and commerce of the world.
I would observe in the first instance, that the desirability and even necessity of a work similar to that contemplated by the bill, is most apparent. A vast tract of fertile land, lying between the proposed canal and the bed of the Jordan river, which is now worthless for agricultural purposes, by reason of want of facilities for irrigation, would be thereby rendered available. In seasons of scarcity of water this city would be greatly benefited by the proposed work.
But, however, as this proposed work is incorporated as a company with perpetual succession, and a company, the incorporation of which would, necessarily, expose the virtual placing of the future of the Territory in the hands of a few individuals, I deem it my duty to withhold my signature from the bill. In this respect, I am not alone. In this Territory, the water of our streams should be looked upon as the property of the entire people, to be used and regulated in such manner as shall best promote their interests: and in delegating to any individual or corporation a right to the control and management of any stream, this fact should ever be borne in mind.

It gives me pleasure to state further, that the bill is not only in violation of the liberal and intelligent sentiment, named as corporations, monopolies, but it is also in violation of the principle of the bill, which is to be a benefit for generations yet to come.
The following are some of the objections to which I have adverted:
1. The corporation is endowed with an unlimited power, to purchase and hold real estate.
2. While it is conceded that a power should be granted the corporation to purchase real estate, it is necessary for the construction and operation of the canal, no necessity is perceived for a further extension of this power. A great and burdensome monopoly might thus be created.
3. No time is assigned within which the work must be commenced and completed.
The necessity for such a canal is so apparent, that its construction is simply a question of time. The grant of this charter would virtually prevent all other parties from engaging in the work. The company, by deferring for a long period the commencement of their work, as they are not prevented from doing by the terms of their charter, might thus greatly retard the agricultural development of the region dependent for water upon the river Jordan and Utah lakes.
4. No dimensions are prescribed for the proposed canal. The construction of a simple ditch would be a compliance with the requirements of the charter. In the grant of so important a franchise, ample guarantee should be provided in the charter itself, that the work be constructed upon a scale of magnitude commensurate with the present and future needs of the country.
5. No rates are fixed at which the water shall be furnished for agricultural or other uses, nor is it provided that such rates be uniform to all consumers, nor is the company obliged to furnish water to the settlers at all.
It is conceived that there is much force to each of these objections. While it may not be practicable at present, before the cost of the work is known, to fix an exact tariff of the rates at which water be furnished, yet the power of fixing such rates should be reserved in the legislature. The corporation should be entitled to charge such rates and no more, as would yield to it a fair compensation, above all necessary expenses, for the capital invested in the work. Reports of receipts and disbursements should be made to the Legislature annually, as the basis for occasional readjustments of such rates, since the cost to each consumer would naturally diminish with the settlement of the country and greater demand for water thereby created, without corresponding increase in the cost of furnishing it at all.
The company should also be obliged to furnish water to its consumers at uniform rates, without charge for water, to render utterly worthless the real estate of any landed proprietor, whom, for any reason, it might desire to persecute or oppress.
The company should also be required to furnish water to all demanding it for agricultural purposes along the line of the canal. By an arbitrary discrimination in favour of certain settlers, it could entirely prevent the settlement of any particular locality.
It will be perceived that each of these last several objections rests upon the principle previously enunciated: that although a private enterprise, this project possesses many of the characteristics of a public work; that the water capable of being used for purposes of irrigation is the property of the present and future agriculturists of the Territory, and that the corporation is simply the appointed custodian of their rights.
6. For reasons similar to those advanced for fixing the rates for the sale of water, the power of fixing the tolls, to be paid for boats navigating the canal, should be also reserved to the Legislature.
6. Through inadvertence, merely, I doubt not, no provision is embraced in the bill, requiring the canal to be carried in aqueducts, or otherwise over the various streams crossed upon its route. Unless this were done, the waters of such streams would be absorbed by such canals, to the great and manifest injury of the lands capable of being irrigated, or perhaps already irrigated by such streams.
CHARLES DORRIS, Governor.

GENERAL NEWS.

New York, Jan. 27.
The House of Representatives has passed a bill for the relief of the insolvent debtors of the United States, which will be applicable to all the insolvent debtors of the United States, no person shall be held in contempt or punished for failure to pay his debts, or for failure to appear in court, or for failure to comply with the provisions of the act, unless he is a resident of the United States, or a citizen of the United States, or a person who has been declared bankrupt under the laws of the United States.

Nashville, Jan. 21.
Some time ago Capt. Sweeney was sent to Montgomery and Hickman counties, to collect U. S. money and horses, but was set upon by bushwhackers and driven off. A squad of 5th U. S. regular cavalry was sent out to arrest the outlaw, and report has reached the city that this squad had a fight with a guerrilla party in Hickman county, during which one guerrilla was killed and three soldiers wounded.

The Union citizens are being persecuted in the work of the Union League, and information from that quarter indicates the bitterest feeling existing towards Unionism, and the whole city authority is turned against them.

The constitution of the General Land Office, has been transmitted to the Governor of California, two patents embracing nearly 25,000 acres of land settled by parties, in virtue of State warrants.

The Secretary of the Interior has called a meeting of the directors and engineers of the Pacific Railroad, on the 1st of Feb., and another meeting in N. Y. on the 15th for the purpose of adopting some uniform standard of road to which several companies organized under act of Congress shall conform.

Washington, Jan. 28.
The following is the substance of a conversation that took place to-day between the President and a Senator not named. The President said he doubted the propriety at this time of making further amendments to the Constitution; propositions to amend were becoming numerous as resolutions at town meetings, and all this kind of thing had a tendency to diminish the dignity and prestige attached to the Constitution and to lessen the confidence of the people in their great charter of freedom. If four amendments are to be made, he knew of none better than that of simple propositions embraced in few lines, making in each State the number of qualified voters a basis of representation, and the value of property a basis of direct taxation.

Fenian friends of Major Sweeney Fenian in Secretary of war, lately dismissed from the regular army for absence without leave, are making strenuous efforts to have him reinstated, and are confident of success.

Official news, 29th December, has been received here from El Paso. After the occupation of Culiacan, by the French, they sent an expedition to El Paso against President Juarez, who collected at that place Gen. Ferriz's Division and made other preparations to resist the invaders with every chance of success. Juarez, however, heard of this and marched back to Culiacan, thus abandoning the attack.

Bank of England returns show enormous drain of specie, and fears of a commercial crisis are freely expressed by English Journals, and that the rate of discount will advance to 15 or 20 per cent.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Chicago, Jan. 28.
A whole flock of Fenian rumors are set loose in the dispatches from London by the last steamer. It is said that the British Government has information of a conspiracy to blow up the public buildings; that the Custom House has been undermined, and that the Home Secretary has instructed the Chief of the London Fire Brigade to adopt precautionary measures. The Custom House and other public buildings are to be carefully guarded from this continued peril. Two recruits will receive Ireland will be practically placed under martial law, and a demand made at Washington for the suppression of public Fenian demonstrations in the United States.

The advice from Mexico are important. The Liberal Gen. Morales had defeated the Imperialists with a heavy loss. The Liberal General Martinez has captured the town of Alamos. Letters from Brownsville give the details of the Burgos affair. The capturing party was composed of a miscellaneous crowd of Mexicans, sutlers, clerks, adventurers and idlers, who appear to have engaged, as in a good piece of sport, and though it is believed there were among the captors some United States soldiers, every one of them was present to answer a roll call next morning.

A Paris correspondent of the Independence Belge says, it is known that the "Fenian" party are in favor of the execution of Mexico, and rumor

Letters from the Interior of Mexico present a profound anxiety on account of the embarrassed condition of the Imperial finances and prospects of the Empire. The general demands for money to carry on the government are great. But the Treasury is empty, and there are no available sources from which to replenish.

STRAILING PAPERS.—Yesterday morning, bright and early, a mean-strung Mormon might be seen straining away the VEDETTE from under the door of Siegel's clothing store, near the Salt Lake House. Had it been a sample of a pair of pop-guns, there's no telling which would drop the quicker, the paper or the pill-roller just to scare him. If you want to know the news and truth that's going, save a V occasionally from your titlings, and subscribe, like an independent, honest freeman ought to!

MORMONISM LEAKING OUT.—At the Tabernacle, Sunday morning, the speaker said, substantially, that greenbacks, gentle manners, &c., were making a sad havoc with the faithful in their church attendance, since, a number of years ago—when the people were hardly half as numerous here as now—the tabernacle used to be thronged; while nowadays, with triple the saintly census, the audiences were not half so large. He feared that greenbacks and these gathering gentiles was the cause, and "lukewarmness" the result of their devotion "leaking out."
